

Edible Schoolyard 2015-2016 Internships

Garden Education Internship

The Edible Schoolyard Greensboro empowers children and families to cultivate healthy communities through food education. Interns will spend the semester immersed in this unique atmosphere assisting staff with field trips and other garden programs based in the seed-to-table philosophy. Depending on the interests of the intern, there is also the possibility of participating in daily tasks in the garden, such as planting, harvesting, weeding, watering, and other special projects.

Interns may be responsible for the following:

- Assisting with gardening and cooking programs for children of all ages
 - Independently leading garden-based lessons for groups of 5-12 children
 - Assisting with garden maintenance
 - Assisting educators with garden-based program development and special projects
-

Qualifications:

Experience and love of working with children of varying ages

Excitement about The Edible Schoolyard's mission

High school graduate

Quick learner and independent thinker

Experience with gardening or cooking is strongly preferred, but not required

Compensation:

Unpaid

Fresh garden food and eggs, as available seasonally

To apply, please submit a resume and cover letter to Hailey Barrow at hbarrow@gcmuseum.com. Applications reviewed on a rolling basis.